"I applaud the Idaho Partnerships Conference on Human Services for yet another first-rate regional conference. The national speakers and local experts were amazing! You offered a wide variety of valuable sessions - I wish I could have attended them all! Thanks again for being such a tremendous resource to so many!"

-Marilyn Sword, Executive Director
Idaho Council on Developmental Disabilities

Our Keynote speakers:

Denise Bissonnette, M.A.

diversity world

Denise is a uniquely impassioned author, trainer and curriculum developer in the field of Employment and Training. She is a highly respected advocate for improved employment services for people receiving public assistance, persons with disabilities, refugees and immigrants, injured workers, and persons from other disadvantaged groups

Michael W. Smull is widely known for his popular presentations on Person-Centered Thinking Skills and Person-Centered Planning Skills. He believes that a person-centered plan is a means not an end: The life the person wants is the outcome, not the plan that describes it. Michael continues to help people return to their home communities from institutions and residential schools.

The Learning Community
for personal, social, and academic growth

Other Conference presenters:

Dr. James Partington, Ph.D

has co-authored with Dr. Mark L. Sundberg the books, Teaching Language to Children with Autism or Other Developmental Disabilities and The Assessment of Language and Learning Skills (The ABLLS)

Mindy Oppenheim, M.A. - With over 25 years of experience in disability and supported employment, and a Masters Degree in Adult Education and Instructional Design, Mindy Oppenheim brings a wealth of information, skill, and enthusiasm to the workshops.

Robin Rose, M.A.

A renowned trainer, speaker and consultant, Robin's expertise is in teaching people how to stay calm, professional, and effective — especially during high-stress, high-pressure situations. Robin helps people be their best when it matters most.

Daniel J. Baker, Ph.D - Dan Baker's areas of interest and expertise include positive behavior support, special education transition services, supported employment, and mental health for persons with developmental disabilities.

Dennis Morrow, M.A.Ed., MBA, has been the Executive Director of Janus Youth Programs, Inc. since 1980. The agency provides a wide array of services to high-risk adolescents.

Joe Meadours was the Past president of Oklahoma People First. For the past 5 years, he has been the Director of Consumer Empowerment for Mental Health & Mental Retardation in Alabama. Last year, he authored a book on relationships.
